

THE WHOLE GANG GO UP.

More Counterfeiters Sent to the Pen by Zane.

HIBBARD IS INCORRIGIBLE.

He Will Shave No More of the Queer for Six Year

But 25 Years of Age and Has Already Served Five Years in the Pen—Hines From Gully—Alberts Sentenced.

The case of Daniel Hines, charged with counterfeiting, was resumed before Judge Zane in the Third district court yesterday morning.

At the time of Hines' arrest, Chief Paul saw him come out of Hibbard's rooms at No. 37 1/2 South Temple street, and, dropping to his trail, followed him to the Utah Central depot. Hines was given plenty of rope at the time for the purpose of seeing if he would stop at a house on Sixth South, near Main street, which was under police surveillance. Hines did not stop there, however, and continued west until he reached the Utah Central yards. At that point he disappeared behind some cars, but in a few minutes he again came into view and the chief placed him under arrest.

Upon being searched at the city hall, nothing suspicious was found on Hines' person, although he had four genuine silver dollars in his pocket. A short time subsequent to his arrest, however, a messenger in the employ of the Pacific Express company found a $20 roll of counterfeit dollars in the vicinity of the yards, and the supposed was, of course, that Hines had thrown it away, knowing that the police were after him. A similar roll was also found near the corner of Main and Sixth South streets by John Hopworth upon the same afternoon. Mr. Hopworth readily discovered that the money was bogus, and he turned it over to the officers at the city hall. Hines claims that he had nothing to do with the money thus found and based his defense on that claim.

A SECRET SERVICE AGENT.

Joseph Walker, a secret service agent in the employ of the treasury department, who has been much interested in the trial of the counterfeiters, went upon the stand and testified that the bogus coin was counterfeited from genuine dollars coined at Philadelphia, Pa., San Francisco, Cal., and New York City, N. Y. The gentleman stated that the counterfeiters were far above the average, and had evidently been fashioned by a master hand.

Mr. Walker also testified with relation to the similarity existing between the money found near the Utah Central depot, supposed to have been thrown away by Hines, and the money found in Hibbard's rooms; also the paper with which the separate packages were wrapped. He was of the opinion that the counterfeiters of the same lot and the paper from the same package.

The prosecution rested at 12 o'clock, and witnesses for the defense were called. W. A. Hibbard, who had previously pleaded guilty to similar charges, was the main witness for the defense. He identified all the counterfeit money as his own, and testified that he had been arrested, and that they were his. With reference to Hines' connection with the affair, he stated that he had never seen Hines until the day upon which they were being arrested. He also alleged that the coins found near the Utah Central depot were not of his manufacture.

Hines, testifying in his own behalf, protested his innocence. It came out on cross-examination that he is an ex-convict, having been sent up from Provo for six months in February, 1891, for an assault with a deadly weapon.

The case reached the jury about the middle of the afternoon, and they returned into court less than an hour, with a verdict of guilty on one count, that of having counterfeited money in his possession. Hines waived time for sentence and was given three years in the penitentiary.

TWO YEARS FOR ALBERTS.

W. C. Alberts, the diminutive specimen of humanity who was found guilty of counterfeiting and having counterfeit money in his possession on Thursday, came up for sentence before Judge Zane yesterday morning. The jury had recommended him to the mercy of the court and his attorney added a few appropriate remarks to the recommendation. His honor then put the usual questions to the defendant and in conclusion sentenced him to one year on each count. Alberts complains bitterly of his conviction and says if he had known that Patterson, his alleged confederate, intended to charge him with making counterfeit money during all of a certain day, he would have produced any number of witnesses who would have testified that he was following his trade of "tinkering" upon the date mentioned. However, it is too late now for vain regrets, and Alberts will have to retire from the public gaze for about eighteen months.

THE INCORRIGIBLE HIBBARD.

W. A. Hibbard, who entered a plea of guilty on Thursday to making counterfeit money and having in his possession tools for the manufacture of the same, was sentenced by Judge Zane yesterday afternoon. Questioning brought out the fact that Hibbard is only twenty-eight years of age and that he has already done five years in the Utah penitentiary for a robbery committed about seven years ago.

"Well," said Judge Zane, "you have made a very bad start in life, and under the circumstances I cannot see that you are entitled to leniency. Hardly know what to do with you, but I don't seem to do you any good to be punished. However, I will sentence you to three years on each count."

LAST OF THE COUNTERFEITERS.

Judge Zane will make a setting of civil jury cases at 10 o'clock this morning, after which he will try Philip Nicholas Volke, the last of the counterfeiters. Volke is charged with having counterfeit money in his possession, but thinks he will have no trouble in clearing himself.

Justice Gee's Victims.

In the police court yesterday Julia De Lamar was fined $25 for "advertising her vocation as a prostitute."

Henry Heath, who was arrested on Thursday by a very fresh night watchman on the charge of late driving, was acquitted.

D. Bendickson, charged with keeping an unlicensed dog, was allowed to go on paying the license while G. I. Bow was fined $2 for a similar offense. The case against John Husbands, charged with interfering with an officer in advising Bond to knock Galt out, was dismissed.

Peter Johnson, charged with assaulting B. F. Carroll, was dismissed.

Three plain drunks were fined the usual amount.

James Cronin was arrested by the police yesterday on the charge of vagrancy.

Who Lost a Hand Out?

Yesterday afternoon Officer Miner saw a man giving the name of Ed Smith going about with various second hand stores, trying to sell a hand cart. When asked where he got it, Smith stated that he had purchased it at Lowe's, but this was found to be false, and he afterwards made several contradictory statements. Officer Miner arrested the man on the charge of petty larceny, and the police are now looking for the owner of the cart.

Folmanti Released.

Chief Folmanti, whose notable trial for fornication with 16-year-old Lizette Swann is still fresh in the minds of the public, has been released from the penitentiary, upon expiration of his sentence. He was sentenced to three months on Feb. 8.

AMUSEMENTS.

An unusually large demand for seats is expected for the performances here of James J. Corbett in his play of "Gentleman Jack." This has been the result wherever the champion has appeared. Corbett has a beautiful home in New York city, and his pretty wife travels with him. He is the most popular pugilist with the gentler sex that ever appeared upon the stage. All the scenery and effects used in his play of "Gentleman Jack" were especially designed. In the first act the ladies attending the performances will be given an opportunity to see the young Hercules in training. Mrs. Corbett, the charming wife of the champion, will be seen for the first time in this city as an actress, appearing as Polly Graham, a college widow.

WONDERLAND.

"A Woman's Devotion" is being presented at the family resort by the capable stock company. Incidental to the play appears "Inocentia," the masked dance. She is reputed to be a Danish girl who was forced by misfortune to adopt the stage for a livelihood; she is certainly a very graceful dancer, and will give exhibitions of her accomplishments during the present week's engagement. Prof. Koltair has added another beautiful illusion, entitled "Rolla." On the sly stage are seen for the first time in this city, the Bailey sisters, a clever English song and dance duo.

THE MILLS OF UTAH.

Unsettled Condition of an Important Growing Industry.

Outside Mills Cutting Under the New Association Prices—President Rogers Favors a Combination.

The milling interests of the territory, and particularly of Salt Lake county, have been in a very unsettled and unsatisfactory state for a year or more. Competition and over-production have forced prices of flour down to the lowest point they have ever reached in this territory, and forced all the mills to either close down a portion of the time or run at half capacity.

Various propositions to syndicate the milling interests of the territory have been made, but none have been adopted. Last year Theodore Brubach attempted to negotiate the purchase of all the mills, the papers were drawn up and figures named, but the English syndicate at the last moment.

About two months ago another sale of all the important mills in the territory was partly negotiated, the Jarvis-Connell Trust company representing the purchasers, and the amount involved being nearly two million dollars, but this also failed.

A few weeks ago the Rocky Mountain Millers' association was formed, including all the important mills in Utah, Southern Utah and Western Wyoming. A union of mills of prices was adopted, and the millers congratulated themselves upon having made a great stride in the direction of harmony and prosperity.

But the millers' association does not seem to have accomplished all that was expected of it. There are a number of small mills in various parts of the territory that have never joined it, and they are putting their product on the Salt Lake market at less than the association price. President Rogers of the association is in favor of a consolidation of all the mills under one management. In this way they could supply the market at a great deal less expense to themselves, and pay the farmers a better price for their wheat without raising the price of flour. Some other members of the association favored the same plan, but no steps had been taken.

"Flour is lower now than I ever knew it to be before," said he, "but that is regulated by the price of wheat. The farmers in this territory would starve to death if the present price of wheat continued. It is selling up in Idaho at 35 cents per bushel. There is no danger of raising the price of flour while wheat is so low. But the millers would like to pay the farmers better prices, and they could do so by combining and reducing their operating expenses."

ANTE ROOM ECHOES.

A Very Busy Week in All the Fraternal Orders.

Masonic Work—Death in the K. of P. and A. O. U. W. Orders—L. O. O. F. and Sons of St. George Celebrations, Etc.

This week things were very lively among the fraternal society people. Besides the Odd Fellows' anniversary and the celebration by the Sons of St. George of the day dedicated to their patron saint, there was a good deal of ordinary work, and also considerable degree work. Two of the orders have to mourn the death of prominent members. The Knights of Pythias have lost an old and much respected member in T. C. Armstrong, Jr., and the A. O. U. W. an equally loved brother in the person of W. H. Fuller. Both were old citizens, in fact they rank among the pioneers, and were honorable, upright men and universally respected.

Masonic.

A good deal of work was done in the Masonic order. The nobles of the Mystic Shrine are making arrangements to hold a special meeting on May 24th, for the purpose of admitting novices, and other important work of this brother. Mount Moriah lodge held a special meeting on Monday evening, at which the entered apprentice degree was conferred on one candidate. Mount Moriah held another special meeting for work in the fellow craft degree on Wednesday evening. On Thursday the commandery held a special convocation, and conferred the knight templar degree on two candidates. The chapter met last evening and worked in the royal arch degree.

L. O. O. F.

The great event in this order was the celebration of the Seventy-fourth anniversary of the founding of the order. A banquet, which was held on Wednesday evening, and was in every respect a most auspicious occasion. A full account of the proceedings has already been published in THE HERALD.

The subordinate lodge held their regular routine business.

On Monday evening Jordan lodge met and enjoyed a very pleasant session. The attendance was very good and a fraternal time was had.

Unity encampment had a good meeting on Tuesday evening, and transacted the regular routine business.

Utah lodge, the oldest in the jurisdiction, met on Thursday, and worked in the second degree. Several applications to join were received and will be dealt with in due course.

On Friday evening Salt Lake and Fidelity lodges met. The attendance in both cases was very good, and a large amount of business was transacted.

Knights of Pythias.

Calantha on Monday night enjoyed a specially good session and conferred the knight's rank on one brother.

Myrtle lodge met, as usual, on Tuesday night. There was no degree work, two applications to become members were voted on and the polls showed a favorable result. The initiations will take place at the next meeting. A long discussion on the by-laws was had.

On Wednesday evening Monitor lodge met with a very big attendance. Several applications for membership were received and placed in the hands of the investigating committee. Two others were voted for and elected.

Ivy Temple, Pythian Sisters, met yesterday afternoon in the hall on Richards street and a pleasant and profitable time was reported.

It has been arranged that the funeral of the late Colonel T. C. Armstrong of the Uniform Rank and Post Grand C. C. will be held at 128 South Main street, at the auspices of the Knights of Pythias. The funeral services will take place at the house, No. 46 West Second South street, at 2 o'clock, where the brethren will assemble and will follow the remains to their last resting place in Mount Olivet cemetery.

The Uniform Rank will meet next Friday for drill, after which a banquet will be given to the members at the Saddle Rock restaurant by the new officers of the rank.

A. O. U. W.

Salt Lake Valley lodge met on Thursday evening. The workman degree was conferred to W. H. Worwick, Jr. There was a big attendance, including elders from sister lodges at South and Lehi. A committee of three was appointed to draw up resolutions of condolence and respect in the matter of the death of their greatly lamented brother and fellow worker in the lodge, W. H. Fuller.

It has been arranged that the funeral will take place under the auspices of the order on Sunday, from the Fourth ward meeting-house at 11 a. m. The members of the order are requested to meet in the hall in the Union block at 9 a. m. Sunday morning to take part in the arrangements for attending the interment.

Temple lodge met on Monday evening and conferred the workman degree on C. D. Campbell.

Overseer T. O. Angell was elected foreman, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of T. L. Henderson.

John K. Herport was elected to the office of overseer.

The Temple of Honor.

The Western Star council met on Tuesday evening and had a pleasant session.

The subordinate temple met on Thursday evening and transacted a good deal of business besides electing officers for the coming term. The temple is in a very prosperous condition and is adding to its membership and doing good. Its financial condition is also satisfactory, a considerable sum being in the treasury.

Following are the names of the officers elected: The installation will take place at the next meeting on Thursday evening when all are particularly requested to be present. W. C. H. F. E. Polk, W. V. T. Alex. Hoggan; W. R. W. B. Woods; W. A. R. S. Rance; W. F. R. Thomas; Allen; W. T. W. L. Harris; W. G. W. Crandall; D. W. John; Thomas; W. G. Heber; Brewer; W. S. C. W. Robinson. Representatives of the grand temple which meets in June, R. Papworth, G. I. Spencer and H. D. Folson.

Star of Bethlehem.

This prosperous little order had a pleasant social gathering last Monday night. Their own hall not being large enough the A. O. U. W. kindly let them have the use of their hall in the Union block and a very jolly time was had. Dancing was engaged in and songs and music lent a variety to the proceedings which were kept up till past midnight. The next meeting of the Mizpah lodge will be on Monday night in the small hall in the Union block. Initiatory work is to be done, and other matters of importance will come up. A large attendance is specially requested.

Red Men.

Washakie Tribe No. 1 I. O. R. M. held their regular meeting Thursday night with a good attendance. The chief's degree was conferred on two members. The meeting was a very enthusiastic one. The tribe is growing and prospering and hopes to soon be among the foremost order of the city. Visiting members are always welcome.

Foresters.

The Ancient Order of Foresters met next Friday evening in their new I. O. O. F. hall, Union block, Main street, opposite the Walker house. The Court Pride of Utah No. 7257 requests all Foresters in town to meet with them next week sure. All parties desirous of joining this ancient society should communicate with Chief Ranger A. Robertson or G. W. Atmore, financial secretary; box 1056 Salt Lake city.

Sons of St. George.

The Sir Knights of Trafalgar lodge celebrated St. George's day on Monday, April 4, at the City hall, Market street, where they were joined by a deputation of over 100 of the Sir Knights from Beaconfield lodge, Park City, with their wives and sweethearts.

The entertainment consisted of an instrumental concert, readings and songs. The young lady who presides at the piano rendered several beautiful pieces in a very artistic manner. The worthy president, Mr. Gill Mills, opened with one of his most impressive addresses all to the celebration, apologizing for naming the G. A. R. hall instead of the Sir Knights' hall, requesting all to enjoy themselves in the true English fashion. He was not met together for the purpose of enlightening England, but the sun does not shine upon any country in this wide world where there are not Englishmen.

Another, which was sung by the band, was always looked upon and treated with the respect due to them. You will not find a man who has adopted America as his home who is not a Sir Knight, and who is a grand country. We have all the goods things of this world here, so let us enjoy them and make our lives happy.

Solo on the piano, "The Old Oaken Bucket." Reading, "The Legend of St. George and the Dragon," W. S. Wm. M. Brown. Miss Maud Pratt, the old time favorite, sang in a rich, melodious voice "It Is All a Dream," which took so well with the audience, calling for an encore, to which she kindly responded by singing the Scotch song "Comin' Through the Rye."

Another of the favorites of the lodge, Miss Surtees, sang in character very sweetly, "The Blind Girl," the old time favorite, credit upon her tutor, Miss Easley, who accompanied her on the piano, and which pleased so well that they had to repeat it.

Recitation, "The Little Hero," by Miss Evans, rendered very beautifully. This ended the first part of the concert, and the W. P. Wm. G. Mills invited the guests to retire to the room by partaking of supper provided for them which they thoroughly enjoyed.

At the request of several young ladies the worthy president, William G. Mills, engaged a musician to play for a dance which they enjoyed for an hour, after which the second part of the programme was proceeded with, commencing with a piano solo. Mr. J. Evans next favored the company with a reading entitled "The Small Boy in a Dime Museum," given in such a humorous and dramatic style that it kept the audience in one continual uproar of laughter, and taking so well that it called for an encore, to which he kindly responded by giving another reading called "The Three Fairies."

Miss Cressie Lawson, another favorite of the lodge, responded to the call of the W. P. by singing that beautiful song, "Let Me Dream Again," which also called for an encore, to which she responded by giving that favorite of the Sir Knights, "The Little Hero," by Miss Evans, which she sang in a most beautiful voice.

Miss Maud Pratt, who has again before to the call of the lodge, again came forward and sang with a very sweet and sympathetic voice, "The Little Hero," which called such loud applause that she had to repeat it, Miss Maud Pratt accompanying on the piano.

The closing of the second part of the programme, the W. P. made some timely remarks and moving a vote of thanks to all those who had so kindly rendered their services and assisted the lodge, and through the session with their talents; also to all our friends from Beaconfield lodge, Park City, who had favored us with their presence, trusting to be enabled to return the compliment some day.

All Sir Knights are particularly requested to be in attendance at the next lodge meeting, on Wednesday, May 2, as the nomination of officers for the next six months' term takes place that night; also several important items of business have to be considered, and it is hoped that some time, and the officers would like a full attendance so that such items may have a fair discussion on their merits.

What Is Money? Weighed against that health is so often falls to buy? Dress indeed. While we can none of us claim a total exemption from that greatest of all ills to which flesh is heir—if health, we may do much to lessen the chances of incurring it, and this not alone by the adoption of such sanitary measures as are to be found in daily exercise, regular hours, prudence in eating and drinking, and a wholesome diet, but also by resorting to judicious preventive medication when the system is threatened by unfavorable influences. For instance, residents or sojourners in malarious localities should use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a defense against chills and fever, and persons who incur much out-of-door exposure should employ it as a safeguard against rheumatism. Travelers in the tropics find it invaluable also as a means of arresting liver complaint and constipation, and counteracting the debilitating influence of a torrid climate.
